First Fire of the Present Fourth of July Season.

LITTLE DAMAGE WAS DONE

Trustee Barackman of Brighton Has Good Chance to Recover. Gen. General Manager of D. and R. G.

Denver Bureau Colorado Springs Gazette.

Denver, July 2.—The first fourth of July fire of the season occurred today at 1016 Fifteenth street. At this number, a small store room about 6x8, is occupied by Gilbert Sacia with a stock of fireworks. S. W. Bates was attending store during Sacia's absence. A passing boy maliciously threw a lighted cigarette amongst the fireworks, setting them on fire. Mr. Bates' hands, wrists and forehead were badly burned. The fire department was called out and extinguished the fire. Loss about $50.

Thos. F. Williams, a miner, well known in Colorado, was found dead in his room at 1437 California street this morning. Coroner McGovern decided that he died from alcoholism. Williams was about 40 years of age.

Mr. Barackman's Condition.

T. A. Barackman, the town trustee of Brighton who was shot by a tramp on Saturday evening, has a good chance to recover. He was very much improved today and the physicians who are attending him think he will live.

Elizabeth Hemme, who was picked up insane on the street Saturday, is still in jail. E. L. Dahl, the boy, is quite ye[illegible] and screamed and cried nearly all night, imagining that somebody was poisoning her. The matter was reported to the county physician and she will be taken to the hospital.

Lost Check and Cash.

Mrs. Joseph Holly who has just arrived from Indianapolis, lost a check for $1,19 and 36 in cash this morning on Champa street between 15th and 16th. Mrs. Holly dropped the money from her handkerchief in which she had it tied. The check is payable to her and is drawn on the Indiana National bank. It is not endorsed and payment has been stopped.

The report for the fiscal year from the U. S. custom department shows total receipts of $88,941.71, as against $67,[illegible] of last year, thus giving an increase of 30 per cent.

From the license issued by the city the Tramway company it is shown that that company operates on an average 122 cars a day during the year. On this it pays a license of $1 a foot, making a total of $4,742.88 paid to the city for the privilege.

Is Given a Manager.

J. G. Metcalfe late of the Louisville and Nashville railroad, assumed the duties of general manager of the Denver and Rio Grande railway this morning, relieving President Jeffery of this feature of the road's direction. FLORENCE

Drum Corps Has Been Organized—Florence Southern Is Expected to Be Completed.

Special to the Gazette.

Florence, July 2.—The Edwards drum corps has been organized and the members confidently expect to be in position to participate in the coming Fourth of July celebration. They will have a complete outfit of new instruments which [illegible] respect. The corps has twenty members.

Grading is being done on the south side of the D. & R. G. tracks of the Florence & Southern, covered by the franchise to W. E. Johnson, which was extended last October by the city council. Dirt is flying at the site of the proposed smelter and everything has a lively appearance, and the outlook for the future is good. Both the Florence Southern and the smelter will be built.

Commencing July 8 the Florence and Cripple Creek road will put on a new train, consisting of entirely new equipment, the engine and cars being just out of the shop. It will be a through train between Florence and the district and not touch Canon at all. It will arrive here at 4:20 p. m. and leave for the district at 7:10 a. m., connecting with No. 2 on the D. & R. G. which goes west at 8:40 p. m., and with No. 4 which goes east at 4:25 p. m.

The Arion Gesang Verein met for rehearsal last evening from 6 to 8 o'clock. After rehearsal the hall was thrown open to members' families and the young men's lady friends. A short program was rendered and refreshments consisting of ice cream, cake, lemonade and the German's national drink were served. This social session will be repeated the first Sunday in each month hereafter.

George Trent, a colored man, has been sentenced to 40 days in the county jail at Canon City for the theft of $50 worth of piano tuning instruments from the Rock Island hotel.

RICO

A SUBTERRANEAN MINERAL PALACE DISCOVERED.

Municipal Officers are Improving the Appearance of the City—Mr. Yeager Satisfied with Colorado.

Special to the Gazette.

Rico, Colo., July 2.—While drifting on the Atlantic Cable mine a blast exposed to view the entrance to a large cave or cavern. It proved to be in the shape of a large circular room, ample in proportions to accommodate twenty, five or thirty men standing upright. It is in solid mineral and the walls are heavily hung and lined with oxidized copper. The view of the cavern by candlelight is dazzling beyond description, and with its glittering walls and fanciful figures which Nature has so artfully formed and kept hidden for ages, it resembles what to the youthful mind what one of the apartments in Alladin's palace must have been. From present appearances, there is a small opening at the farther side of the cave leading to a larger cavern beyond. As soon as the first apartment is cleaned out and the debris all removed the find will be further investigated for a continuance of the subterranean mineral palace.

The trout streams in this county are being polluted with sawdust from the mills along their courses and the action of the sawmill managers in not taking steps to abate the nuisance is causing the destruction of a great number of trout. A general complaint is going up from sportsmen and those who are interested in the preservation of game fish, and if the practice of the mill people continue their jailings into the streams is not specially discontinued vigorous steps will be inaugurated to have the authorities put a stop to the wholesale killing-off of the trout.

Rico will have no celebration on the Fourth and the majority of our people will go to Telluride and participate in the festivities which are billed at that place. Those who remain at home will picnic at Soda lake, near town, under the auspices of the Congregational church.

Works Wonders in Health.

The municipal officers have just completed steps for very materially improving the appearance of the city. A [illegible] of the town, which were abandoned several years ago by their owners, have been raised and the surrounding grounds put into a most presentable shape. The incoming this summer of so many outside people has awakened the city authorities to the necessity of making the best possible showing to eastern people, especially those who are arriving daily, many of them with the intention of making investments in mines and local real estate.

The city is constructing a new reservoir for its water works, about 600 feet higher up than the point where the old reservoir is located. This action was made necessary on account of a lack of water pressure, especially in cases of fire. The outlay for the new improvement will be quite considerable but the end will amply justify the means, and when completed Rico will have a water works system second to no town in the San Juan.

Peculiar Course of Clerk.

Several marriage licenses have been issued within the past few days and in two cases, at least, the nuptial ceremonies have taken place. All parties concerned are very reticent concerning the affair and when the county clerk was approached with a request to examine the marriage license records in his office he positively declined, stating that the record of such documents was not subject to public inspection and that no information regarding to whom licenses had been issued could be obtained until the officiating clergyman or other authorized individual had made returns of the ceremonies having been performed. Such action on the part of the autocratic county official is very likely to involve him in a mandamus suit in the near future, unless he reconsiders his action and extends to the newspaper fraternity the privileges to which they and other citizens are entitled.

V. P. Yeager has just returned from the great northwest, after making a six months' tour of all the boom-mining camps in that section. He visited the principal mining towns of Oregon, Montana and Idaho and came back thoroughly disgusted with prevailing conditions up there and more than ever satisfied with Colorado. He states that the Sumpter and Baker City boomers attracted over 85,000 people who rushed into the country expecting to make fortunes, and that 99 per cent of them have left the country poorer than when they entered it. As high as $5,000 was paid for mining claims which lay five feet under the snow, and when the covering disappeared and the purchasers found out what they had bought, they faded away also. As high as $500 was paid for building lots two miles from any producing mine, and when the bubble burst thousands of men left in a worse condition than the bubble.

Rev. Fr. Boeche, S. J., of St. Louis, is holding a week's mission here, two services daily being participated in. The court house and the Catholic church have been used for the meetings and the attendance has been very large. The efforts of the padre will result in the reopening of the Catholic church in this city, which has been closed for several years so far as regular services were concerned. The same priest who ministers to the spiritual welfare of the Telluride Catholics will have charge of the Rico parish in the future.

GRAND JUNCTION

Census Returns Show Population of Less Than 4,000. Sugar Beet Crop in Fine Condition.

Special to the Gazette.

Grand Junction, July 2.—Postmaster Edwin Price had for his guest the past week Mr. Darwin P. Kingsley. In the early 80s Mr. Kingsley was the partner of Mr. Price in the publication of the Grand Junction News. Being a versatile writer and a polished gentleman he gained a state reputation and in 1884 was elected state auditor. After the expiration of his term as auditor he was chosen superintendent of state agencies for the New York Life Insurance company. Several years ago he was elected third vice president of the New York Life and draws a salary of $25,000 per year. Mr. Kingsley was greatly surprised at the wonderful improvements made in this city since his last visit, six years ago.

Mr. and Mrs. Kingsley were on their way east after a seven weeks' visit in California and the Catalina Island.

Exodus on the Fourth.

On the Fourth this city will be almost depopulated. The Woodmen band and base ball team, accompanied by 200 or 300 other people go to Telluride to attend the big celebration there; about thirty go with the Columbine band party to Meeker; some have already gone to their private fishing haunts to angle for "speckled beauties," while hosts will spend the day at Glenwood and Leadville.

The census enumerators in this city and the several districts of the county have completed their work. It was a difficult task to perform on account of the red tape attachments. The population of Grand Junction will not reach 4,000 and that of Mesa county will be between 9,000 and 10,0000.

Large Beet Crop.

The management of the Colorado Sugar Manufacturing company is pleased with the bright prospects of a large beet crop. The acreage this season is fully one-third larger. Last year's experience taught the ranchmen many things to their advantage in beet culture. Most of the fields throughout the valley have been thinned and with few exceptions present a thrifty appearance. The crop will be harvested considerably earlier than that of last fall.

Within the next ten days "Grand Junction peaches" will be on the market. From that time forward until the season of the season this especially noted fruit will be shipped in large quantities to all parts of the country.

The hotel keepers of this city realize that the tourist season is on in earnest. Nightly, people are turned away by the landlords with the remark "Every room in the house taken."

This year the noted fete event of the western slope will be a jollification as the "Mesa County Fair and Peach Day." The dates have not been finally decided upon, but it is likely to occur the last week in September. The fruit growers and ranchmen, who are anxious to make a complete display of all products of the farm, do not want the event to take place as early as it has in former years.

CANON CITY

Mr. Guy U. Hardy Has Assumed Duties of Postmaster, B. F. Shafer Retiring.

Special to the Gazette.

Canon City, July 2.—Guy U. Hardy, the recently appointed postmaster for this city, a few days ago received his commission from President McKinley and taken charge of the office yesterday morning. The retiring postmaster, B. F. Shaffer, has served the government and the citizens of Canon City in a very satisfactory manner for the last four years. Mr. Hardy has been for a number of years the editor of the Canon City Record. Captain H. M. Minnigy, formerly with the Florence Daily Tribune, assumes the editorial duties of the Record.

CASE AFTER CASE.

Plenty More Like This in Colorado Springs.

Scores of Colorado Springs people can tell you about Doan's Kidney Pills. Many a happy citizen makes a public statement of his experience. Here is a case of it. What better proof of merit can be had than such endorsement? Mr. F. J. Webber of 119 W. Costilla street, gives the experience of a boy of eight years of age. He says: "I was not in a position to watch him closely but from what his mother and aunt, who look after him, tell me Doan's Kidney Pills have done him a great amount of good. For three or four years he had symptoms of kidney trouble, complained of his back hurting him and was troubled with urinary weakness. Doan's Kidney Pills have checked this and he does not complain of his back anymore. My wife saw the pills advertised and got a box at Smith-Wilson Drug Co's. store. If my statement of this cases will be of any use to you I am pleased to give it."

GOOD BALL GAME TOMORROW MORNING

Colorado Springs is to have tomorrow another chance to see the college boys play ball at Washburn field, where they will cross bats with the best team in the state, the Elysians. While one or two of the old players will be missed, their places are taken by men who have played on the college teams of a few years ago.

Griffith, the old reliable southpaw, will pitch the game, while Packard will as usual play a star game behind the bat. Davis will be at first, Herr and Jonson will play their usual positions, and Cox will be at third. It is expected that Nolan can come down to play second.

The boys have been putting in some hard work at practice, and if the same receives the patronage which it is expected they will continue a series of games during the season, playing the strongest teams in the state the game tomorrow morning will be called promptly at 10 o'clock and the admission will be placed at 25 cents, thus insuring a large crowd.

Cripple Creek's crack team is trying to arrange a game with the "ex-collegians," and it will probably be played in this city.

CRICKET PLAYERS FORM A CLUB

Organization of a cricket club took place after the cricket match at Broadmoor on Saturday. A number of cricket enthusiasts met and organized the Colorado Springs cricket club. The club will start out under very promising circumstances with about 30 charter members and arrangements will be made with other towns in the state to have matches throughout the summer. The officers of the club are: F. E. Bryant, president and captain; C. H. Bryce, vice captain.

"PASTIMES" WILL PLAY THE "LIPTON TEAS"

There will be a game of baseball on Wednesday afternoon at Washburn field between the Pastimes of this city and the Lipton Teas of Denver.

The Pastimes are a team of players who have been together for several years and are undoubtedly one of the best colored teams in the west. The Liptons are regarded as one of the leading amateur teams of Denver and the game will probably be an interesting one. It will begin at 3 o'clock.

A TEAM OF MULES WITH A HIGH GEAR

A small team of mules hitched to one of the Colorado Springs Transfer company's wagons became frightened yesterday while standing in front of the company's office on Pike's Peak avenue and dashed away at a lively rate. The wagon was loaded with trunks and when the team started to run several of them fell out and as the mules increased their speed the remainder were strewn along the middle of the street. The team ran down to Huerfano and [illegible] when the mules started the driver ran after them. He caught them as they turned from Cascado avenue, but was unable to stop them. He held firmly to the bridle of one of the mules and seemed determined to stop them, but he was finally forced to let go or be trampled under their feet. When the team reached Huerfano street the pole of the wagon went through the wheels of a delivery wagon and the mules were compelled to stop. The horse which was hitched to the small wagon broke away, but did not run. The driver of the transfer team got into the wagon and drove back up the street to gather up the lost trunks.

ALABAMA EDITORS TO GO TO THE MANSIONS

More judicious in the selection of attractive places to spend their time in Colorado than the Mississippians, the Alabama editors announced in a letter received by the chamber of commerce yesterday, that they would arrive in Colorado Springs on Sunday evening, July 22, and spend Monday and Tuesday in this vicinity with headquarters at the Mansions in Manitou. An excursion to Pike's Peak has been arranged and a side-trip to Cripple Creek will follow their sojourn here. The secretary says 80 editors have completed arrangements to come and others may fall into line before the pilgrimage.

Secretary Gilbert McClurg of the chamber of commerce has sent each of the Alabamans a copy of the recent publications on Colorado by the Santa Fe route, which covers the attractions of Colorado Springs and vicinity to a nicety. Mr. McClurg also distributed well chosen literature among the Mississippi editors in Denver. They ascended the Peak last Thursday.

The Santa Fe's new book is a neatly bound volume of 66 pages, containing the most elaborate collection of half tones and press work any publication of the kind has been given in Colorado. The write up of Colorado Springs is particularly attractive in that it is an interesting story of the age, peculiarities and advantages of the region fraught with figures and facts that are convincing. The book is costly, but the chamber of commerce and the railroad company are sending out 50,000 copies, estimated to cost 20 cents each.

Gazette Cottage is Being Plastered

The Gazette summer cottage at Dixon Park place, which is to be given with a number of very valuable appointments to the most popular young married couple in Colorado Springs, is being plastered.

The work of putting the little home into shape has progressed with most remarkable rapidity and is being watched with more interest than the erection of most summer cottages is watched by the public in general and by the contestants in particular. The house stands on the brow of the hill above the Rapid Transit company's line as it enters the Cheyenne Creek valley, near the Canon loop.

Fairley Brothers are selecting the furniture that is to be placed in the cottage. Everything will be selected in the best of taste to look well in the rooms as they will be finished. Nothing will be omitted that is needed to make the cottage thoroughly attractive and its furnishing complete.

Interest in the contest grows every day. The coupons come in in larger numbers each time that they are sent in and the candidates who were not voting at first are beginning to drop in a few coupons just to show that they are not forgetting that there is a contest.

The count will be announced again tomorrow.

THIS MARRIAGE TOOK 20 YEARS TO FAIL

It took Lucinda Nichols and Peter Nichols, who were married in New Haven, Conn., in October, 1880, just 20 years to find out that marriage was a failure. A suit for divorce filed in the county court yesterday told the story as to Mrs. Nichols' side, the petition asking a decree on the grounds of cruelty and non-support.

Otis J. Freeman asks the court to free him from the marital ties that make Mary C. Freeman his common law wife, alleging desertion on her part.

Anna M. England instituted action in county court yesterday for the recovery of certain mining stocks from N. Leipheimer, a broker, alleging that she has tendered him cash to pay commissions which is not satisfactory to him, and that he threatens to dispose of certain shares of the vacuum in her name to satisfy his claim. The petition is long and involves many deals for stocks at various periods. Her tender of commission was $901.36.

The suit of W. G. Miller vs. the Lorenzan Mercantile company was dismissed from the district court yesterday by stipulation of contending attorneys.

A small docket of small cases will be opened in division 1 of the district court on July 30.

COLORADO CITY HAS HER OWN TROUBLES

The regular meeting of the Colorado City council held last evening was by far the most exciting of the year. The cause was the franchise asked for two weeks ago by the Colorado City Electric Light and Power company. Last evening the franchise passed its second reading and was to have been voted upon but after an exciting debate upon the question the council decided to lay it upon the table until the next meeting. The debate which took place was between promoters of the company and citizens who were present to protect themselves from what they seemed to regard as bold robbery.

All the councilmen were present except Mr. Crory. The first matter considered was a request to have M. Maguire's saloon license transferred to Maguire and Phillips, successors. The residents in block 163 on the north side of Colorado avenue, presented a request to have the council make an investigation before ordering the city surveyor to establish a grade along that avenue. They claimed that if the ordinary grade should be established their property would be greatly damaged. The council referred the matter to the streets committee with a request to report at the next meeting.

George W. Beckel, the proprietor of the Brunswick saloon and rooming house, appeared before the council and asked for a special permit to keep his front door open on Sundays. He promised to close up the bar and place a temporary screen around it on Sundays if he could keep his front door open to accommodate the patrons of his restaurant and rooming house. The council requested the police committee to investigate and act.

The franchise asked for by the Colorado City Electric Light and Power company was read by the clerk. The company asks the right to erect lines of poles and wires in the city for the purpose of furnishing the city and the citizens with electric light and power. The franchise was asked for at the last meeting, and since that time a war has been waged against it. The warriors were on hand last evening.

After the reading of the franchise Councilman Craig moved to have the council go into executive session and a few minutes later Councilman Gervais moved to defer the matter until the next regular meeting, but neither motion was seconded. Mr. Waite, who is the general counselor for the company, explained several parts of the franchise. Mr. William Gesford, the editor of the El Paso Argus, made a fiery speech in which he opposed the franchise. He talked until the councilmen were satisfied and the mayor requested him to spare a few moments for the transaction of other business. Mr. Gervais again moved to table the question. Mr. Waycott seconded the motion and it carried.

Councilman Allan asked for $100 with which to pay the current expenses of the public library and the clerk was authorized to draw the warrant. The clerk reported two bills for insurance on the town hall. The council took exception to the amount and the committee on public buildings was requested to look into the matter.

The city attorney was authorized to pay the docket fees in the McDowell and Beckel cases and to proceed in the prosecution of both of them. The mayor was authorized to appoint a committee to assist the county commissioners in determining the proper valuation of property in Colorado City. Adjourned.

A WOULD BE SUICIDE FOILED BACK TO LIFE

Mrs. Kathryn Lewis, a well known resident who has been holding forth in this city for a few weeks past appeared in police court yesterday morning. She was arrested last Saturday evening at her home on North Spruce street by Officer Dayton. Her arrest grew out of the trial and conviction of Charles Cigar, an old gray-haired man who was arrested last Friday evening for selling liquor. The old man was fined $5 and costs and being unable to pay the amount, he was returned to jail to serve out his sentence.

About noon on Saturday Mrs. Lewis called at police headquarters and asked to see Chief Henry. She told the chief that she was acquainted with Cigar and did not wish to have him kept in jail. The chief said that if she would pay the fine the old man would be released. She replied that she was not able to pay the amount of the fine but she knew that the prisoner had some money coming to him from a Huerfano street shoemaker for whom he had worked. She asked for an order from the chief for the money, stating that she would return immediately and pay the fine.

Mrs. Lewis collected the money as the chief afterwards learned but she did not return with it. In the evening Officer Dayton was sent to her home on North Spruce street to arrest her. He found her and ordered her to accompany him to police headquarters.

After her arrest followed the most amusing feature of the whole affair. She worked out what seemed to her a most brilliant scheme by which she could either end her life or run the risk of doing so to gain the sympathies of the police after being placed in her cell at the jail, but the officer with her proved quite equal to the occasion and her plans were thwarted in such a way that they furnished plenty of entertainment for the officers at police headquarters that evening.

As Officer Dayton was bringing his prisoner along Huerfano street she asked to go into a drug store for a few minutes and her request was granted. She went inside and asked the clerk for two ounces of laudanum. While she was waiting for her order Officer Dayton went around into the rear of the store and asked the clerk what the woman had ordered. When he was told that she had asked for poison he requested the clerk to put up two ounces of some liquid which had the appearance of laudanum. A two ounce bottle was filled with syrup of white pine and given to the woman. The officer met her at the front door and they walked to police headquarters.

Officer Dayton informed Chief Henry of what had happened. The chief asked Mrs. Lewis if she had purchased poison in the drug store and she replied that she had not, one was looked up in her cell.

Between the hours of 11 and 12 o'clock Mrs. Lewis took what she supposed was a large dose of laudanum. She then lay down upon her cot and began to cry and throw her hands frantically. Chief Henry appeared upon the scene and asked her what she had done, to which she replied that she had taken poison. The chief showed no sympathy and told her she might die if she wished. This remark did not suit her in the least and she began to cry for medicine to save her life. After a few minutes the chief gave her a drink of some harmless liquid and she immediately ceased her crying and seemed apparently happy at having her life saved.

In police court yesterday morning she thanked Chief Henry many times for saving her life and solemnly promised him never to attempt to commit suicide again. She was fined $50 and costs and given a chance to leave the city.

REPUBLICAN ISSUES AND DEMOCRATIC ISSUES.

IT is perfectly natural that each of the two great national parties of the country should select the issues upon which that particular one feels itself to be the strongest before the people of the country. Each would like to have judgment on the particular point where it feels strongest and its adversary weakest.

The Republicans, for instance, would like to have the country vote on the restoration of prosperity, on the re-establishment of a protective tariff, on the fixing of a monetary standard safe from agitation and the restoration of financial confidence thereby, on the increasing balance of trade in our favor, on the increase of circulation, on the successful conduct of the war with Spain and the great national advantages gained, on the honest, efficient and capable administration of national affairs in every department of the government.

The Democrats on the other hand would like to have the country vote on the difficulty of keeping beef from spoiling in a hot climate, on the advisability of allowing the Filipino to pursue a course of spontaneous development in civilization, the advisability of compelling Puerto Ricans to be taxed like other Americans in order to sustain the Democratic theory of the constitution, the upsetting of every present business condition by a radical departure from our present financial standards and a partial return to the Democratic hobby of free trade in order to strike an indefinite blow at trusts.

Once before the country made the mistake of ignoring vital issues in order to give a verdict upon the minor and distracting questions which the Democracy insisted in forcing to a decision. Cuban beef and Puerto Rican tariff rules, and the degree of self-government to be accorded to the Filipinos, and the theoretical advantages of a financial system based upon a double standard, are matters of public interest to a limited extent, and Republicans as well as Democrats differ in their opinions concerning them, but there are other matters of more importance to be settled.

The Republican party has demonstrated its ability to conduct the affairs of the government successfully and if, as the Democrats claim, it has not created prosperity, it has at least formed no obstacle to prosperity.

Between a party that has demonstrated its capacity and one that has proven its incapacity, between one that has been a true prophet of national conditions and one that has been a false prophet, between one that has established prosperity and one that has allowed adversity, the people is called to judge, and the efforts to direct public attention to affairs of less importance and to bring false issues to the front only serves to show how anxious the Democrats are to avoid a judgment upon the matters that most vitally concern the country's interests.

A STORMY OUTLOOK.

THE believers in the possibility of a world-wide peace and the settlement of all international disputes by arbitration can find little satisfaction in the outlook of the closing year of the Nineteenth century.

A few years ago it seemed very much as though the nations were learning wisdom and suggestions of disagreement were met [illegible] a great deal was said of the enormous cost not only of military operations, but even more of the constant preparation which was made necessary by international rivalries and jealousies, while the increasing deadliness of warfare resulting from successive inventions seemed to point to a time in the near future when the gage of war could only be taken at the risk of the total destruction of both contestants. The movement in favor of a peace conference, at which the great nations of the world were to substitute arbitration for war in the settlement of international disputes and to enforce a similar policy upon the weaker nations, was largely due to such arguments as those just mentioned, and seemed to have a fair prospect of success.

Yet within the past few years there have been such a series of unavoidable wars that one might almost believe that the uselessness of the efforts towards universal peace had been conclusively demonstrated.

In the war against Spain we have had the example of a conflict which was brought about by the cruel abuse of power by one nation at the expense of a weak colony. Spanish misrule in Cuba gave rise to such evils that the interference of the United States was justifiable not only on the grounds of national interest but on those of highest humanitarianism and justice. The difference between Spain and the United States was not one that could be settled by arbitration, nor would either power have consented to submit its cause to a third party. Spain claimed the right to rule her colonies as she chose; the United States claimed that Spain's rule of her colonies was detrimental to our interests and abhorrent to our sense of justice to an unbearable degree. The only arbitrament of the dispute was that of war.

In British South Africa two kinds of civilization met for a final struggle. The Boers claimed the right not only to keep their own laws and customs, but to forbid the entrance of British ideas and British voters. One side or the other must give way completely. There was no room for compromise. The alternative for the Boers was to fight or to surrender.

In the Philippines the leaders of one of the tribes, the most influential and the most powerful of them, claimed the right to establish their authority over the islands, irrespective of any rights that might have been acquired by the United States and without regard to the welfare of the natives of the islands or of their foreign inhabitants. Here, too, it was a case in which there was no room for arbitration. The islands must be either subject to American authority or to that of the Tagal chiefs. Aguinaldo and his associates undertook to establish their authority by force of arms, and there was no alternative for the Americans but to fight the issue to the end.

Largest and most menacing of all is the war which now looms on the Chinese horizon. A government based upon a civilization at total variance with our own, flings defiance in the face of the world, and emphasizes its challenge with a brutal massacre of those diplomatic representatives of foreign nations, whose persons have been considered sacred at all times, even by the most barbarous of western tribes and nations. Possibly there have been wrongs on the other side too, wanton seizures of territory and callous abuse of inoffensive natives in spheres of influence along the coast. But what remedy is there for the present situation other than war? Shall there be an arbitration upon whether China is to be eaten alive in whole or only in part? Shall the heathen consent to leave it to a third party as to whether the graves of his ancestors be desecrated and the angry spirits of the dead roused from their resting place to descend in vengeance upon him and his country? Or will the European submit to arbitration the question of whether the Chinese government may or may not murder the minister who is in his own person the representative of the dignity and power of a government and the personal majesty of an emperor?

And if the Chinese trouble should result soon or late in the "Yellow Peril," of which wise statesmen speak in fear, what chance for arbitration would there be then? If a hundred million Chinese self-led or obedient to the domination of a czar, knock at the gate of Europe and America, shall the question of their entrance be referred to an impartial judge?

New vistas have been opened to the nations within the past few years, and most alarming ones. Our civilization is threatened from without and from within. In making the world smaller we have made for ourselves dangerous neighbors, and the world has yet to learn the price it has to pay for those inventions of which we have been so proud and which have revolutionized our lives and overthrown the course of natural process in a thousand ways.

The progress of the race is an ability to cope with greater dangers than were ever met before. Strength and knowledge have brought us new foes and new perils. At the opening of the Twentieth century not less than at the beginning of the Nineteenth the fight to progress and to maintain what we have is unavoidable, and it is a fight to the death.

COLORADO SPRINGS AS AN ORE TREATMENT POINT.

THE approaching completion of the railroad between this city and the Cripple Creek district calls special attention to this vicinity as a favorable location for plants for the treatment of the Cripple Creek gold ores. Already we have the immense Colorado-Philadelphia Reduction works at Colorado City, and it has been known for some time that two of the big mining companies, the Portland and the Anchoria-Leland, and possibly others, were contemplating the erection of ore treatment works as soon as the new railroad was completed.

There are several reasons which tend to mak Colorado Springs a good site for reduction works, and especially those of the class contemplated by the two companies just referred to. Colorado Springs will be, under the new conditions, more easily accessible to the district than any other city outside of the limits of Cripple Creek, and the ore can be easily and cheaply brought to the works. Besides that we have plenty of cheap land, a sufficient supply of water, and an abundance of cheap coal.

But the most important thing in connection with our prospects as a gold ore reduction center is the fact that a large number of the richest and largest producers of Cripple Creek are owned in this city. It is far better business for such companies as the Portland, the Anchoria-Leland and others of this class to have their own mills, than it is for them to depend upon the somewhat uncertain service of custom plants. It is also noteworthy in this connection that the new railroad is controlled by the same interests that are expected to erect new mills at Colorado Springs and vicinity.

These new mills are also likely to bring about an important development in the Cripple Creek district in that they will tend towards the treatment of lower grade ores than are welcomed at the custom works. When a smelter or reduction works takes in ore from many different mines, and especially when the supply of ore exceeds the capacity of the works as has been the case at Cripple Creek during a great deal of the time in recent years, there is always a natural tendency to accept the ores that are richer and consequently more profitable and to reject those that are poorer and require more skill in their treatment.

Where the mills are owned by individual companies and limited to the treatment of ores from the mines owned by that company the tendency will be to treat all the ore that will pay for the cost of working, and also to make continual experiments in the way of new processes and the reduction of the cost of treatment.

Any one who knows the situation at Cripple Creek, knows how important these things are. A comparatively small reduction in the cost of mill treatment means a immense gain in the tonnage that can be profitably worked and also in the list of producing mines. There are tons of high grade ore, mountains of medium grade, but mountains of low grade, and nearly all of the larger Cripple Creek companies have immense amounts of ore that is just below the limit of present profitable production.

With the establishment of the company mills near Colorado Springs, where they can be constantly under the inspection and direction of the officers of the companies that own the ore, we may expect to see some notable improvements in the gold reduction processes and a very large increase in the Cripple Creek production.

SOME OF THE PRECEDENTS.

THE usual way with the Democratic party, when the Republican administration has done anything worth doing, is to raise a cry of unconstitutionality and then to look up the precedents afterwards, if necessary. And it usually happens in such cases that the precedents are directly opposed to the Democratic claim, so that the party is under the necessity of going out again in its never-ending search for an issue.

The latest example of the Democratic habit is the criticism of the president for "waging war," as the Democrats call it, in China, without the sanction of congress. Nothing would suit the party of opposition better than an extra session of congress on the eve of election, which they might utilize as they did a large part of the last regular session by blocking the public business and making political speeches. But as President McKinley does not see the necessity of calling congress together in order to authorize him to do what he has already a perfect right and authority to do, the Democrats are ready to claim that the American residents in China ought to be massacred without any interference on the part of the American government.

The New York Sun has taken the trouble to look up some of the precedents and gives nine different instances, ranging from 1803 to 1890 in which the United States engaged in military operations in foreign lands by presidential direction alone and without the approval or sanction of congress.

"In 1803 we fought in Tripoli, and in 1805 our men marched 600 miles through Africa and stormed the principal fortress of Derne, and on April 27 planted the American flag for the first time on a fortress in the Old World. JEFFERSON was president.

"In 1832 we took the Sumatran fort of Qualiah Batoo in punishment of pirates, and burned the town. This was some of ANDREW JACKSON'S work.

"In 1853 we fought with Fijis, who had murdered Americans.

"In 1860 we defeated the Kumassi natives, on the west coast of Africa, who had murdered shipwrecked sailors.

"In 1863 we took the forts at Shimonoseki because the Prince of Satsuma had broken a treaty and permitted wrecked sailors to be maltreated.

"In 1868 we smote the pirates in Formosa, the killing of our shipwrecked sailors being the cause.

"In 1871 we were fighting in Corea, where American ships had been burned and sailors killed. We destroyed the forts.

"In 1890 we were by the King of Corea's side, guarding him against attack by revolutionists."

A knowledge of history is often a sad blow to Democratic arguments.

The Chinese empress' name is Tsze Hsi An. We haven't the least idea how it is pronounced, but Tizzy Ann comes near enough for all practical purposes.

For some unknown reason Rhode Island has decided to practice economy and will try to get along with one state capital after next fall.

OPEN PARLIAMENT.

No Muzzle.

To the Editor of the Gazette.

A reader of the article on muzzling dogs, wishes to suggest that the time when any dogs bitten by the dog said to be mad, would be likely to begin to develop symptoms of hydrophobia, has gone by, therefore an ordinance to muzzle dogs would be a little late, while it would be a great hardship to the dogs, especially in this hot weather as they perspire through their open mouths and need to be as free as possible to drink all the water they want. In countries where dogs are required by law to wear muzzles the kind of muzzles which dogs must wear is also carefully specified by law. Such an ordinance would be a hardship to people, who, having paid their licenses, must now go to the expense of procuring muzzles.— H.

What Else It Can Do.

(New York World.)

Ex-Senator Murphy asks as to the silver question, "What else can the Kansas City convention do but reaffirm the Chicago platform on that point?"

It can, if controlled by ordinary common sense, recognize the fact declared by the Democratic convention in this state on June 5 that "new issues are born of time and progress and old issues perish."

The old issue of the currency, which had disturbed this nation for thirty years, was settled by the election of 1896. That verdict has been confirmed in the elections of every year since then. The deliberate decision of the people has been embodied in a law which no result of the coming election can possibly change or repeal.

What the Kansas City convention can do is to accept this result, as both parties have accepted the settlement of scores of other questions in the past, and turn its attention to the new issues that have grown out of the great events of the last two years.

If not wilfully blind the convention will recognize the fact known to all men that the conditions which led to the demand for the free coinage of silver in 1896 are radically changed. The demand was for more money. We have $500,000,000 more. The complaint was of low prices and low wages. Both have advanced. The cry of 1896 was Calamity. The condition of 1900 is Prosperity.

Is it rational to propose a famine fund for the well-fed, to urge medicine upon the healthy, to carry the corpse of a dead issue into a new campaign that will decide the most momentous question that has arisen in this country since the war for the Union—the question whether this country shall continue as a peaceful republic, or shall enter upon the path of a warlike empire?

Mr. Murphy asks in apparent helplessness, "What else can the convention do" but reaffirm an extreme, an obsolete and a fatal platform? The answer is, adopt a moderate, modified and living platform. In the alternative of suicide or a hopeful fight a brave man would not choose suicide. No more would a sane party.

Republican Platform for 1900.

(Chicago Times-Herald.)

Written under conditions which four years ago were without the range of human prediction, the platform of the Republican party in 1900 has scarcely an important feature in common with that of 1896.

In 1896 the national finances faced a monthly deficit which by line of [illegible] had raised our public debt $262,000,000. The country was in the grip of business depression and industrial stagnation combined with cheap prices for farm products had filled the land with discontent and lost skilled strength to the demand for cheap money and repudiation. These facts concentrated the attention of the Republicans at St. Louis in 1896 upon the readjustment of the tariff to "furnish adequate revenue for the necessary expenses of the government" and the maintenance of "the existing gold standard."

Other matters were referred to in the platform, but upon these two subjects the Republican party made its definite declarations and fought out the issue in a campaign.

True, Cuba was referred to because for years its perennial insurrections had been a thorn in the side of American peace. The Republican party expressed its belief that the United States government "should actively use its influence and good offices to restore peace and give independence to the island." But war was not contemplated as the means to that peace and independence.

What the Republican party pledged itself to do in 1896 has been performed. The tariff was readjusted so as to provide sufficient revenue for the expenses of government. A sound currency bill has been enacted which establishes the "existing gold standard" on a statutory basis and removes the recurring danger of the drain on the gold reserve by the so-called "endless chain." A monthly deficit has been succeeded by a monthly surplus, in spite of greatly increased necessary expenditures, business has revived, the hum of industry fills the land with happiness and the price of farm products has responded to the universal prosperity.

But the fulfillment of that pledge of the active use of American influence and good offices to restore peace and independence to Cuba has obliterated the issues of 1896 and confronted the Republican party with questions and responsibilities not dreamed of four years ago. Such matters as the tariff, currency, merchant marine, reciprocity, Armenian massacres, etc., which you will read of in the platform of 1896, are veritable last year's bird's nests when considered in the light of what the Spanish war has left upon our hands.

The platform of 1900 has many planks but practically only two about which the campaign this year will rage. These relate to trust legislation and our obligations in regard to the islands acquired as a result of the Spanish war. These are discussed elsewhere on this page.

The recommendation for the creation of a department of commerce and industries in charge of a secretary with a seat in the cabinet, with supervision of the consular system, will find favor throughout the country.

McKinley's Renomination.

(Leslie's Weekly.)

Every President chosen since Jackson's early days in the White House, when party lines began to be drawn for the first time with any approach to rigidity, and party discipline began to be observed, has had the house of representatives with him at the outset in his service, except Taylor and Hayes. Apart from these two instances, the house of representatives chosen in presidential years has belonged, for the past seventy-two years, to the same party as the president elected at that time. Except in these two instances and in those of the first and second Adams, this has been true, in fact, ever since the beginning of the government.

President McKinley, however, has been the first occupant of the White House for seventy years, save in the abnormal conditions of the civil war and early reconstruction days, when many states of the Democratic section of the country were unrepresented, who has had a plebiscitum in his favor in the congressional canvass in the middle of his term, except Cleveland in his first service. Van Buren, Harrison, Tyler, Polk, Pierce, Buchanan, Grant, (second term), Garfield, Arthur, Benjamin Harrison and Cleveland (second term) were all assailed by the people in the congressional elections of the fatal mid-presidential period. Moreover, the drift in the state elections in his days has been unmistakably in the president's favor.

FIRST NATIONAL BANK BLOCK

New Home for the Pike's Peak Club

Mr. James F. Burns is to erect a new steel frame brick building on Pike's Peak avenue, adjoining the Board of Brokers' building, at a quarter of a million dollars' cost, five stories in height, as was stated in the Gazette on January 5, last.

It is stated that work on this building will begin not later than September 1st.

The announcement of particular interest connected with this building, however, is that arrangements are being made and are practically completed for the Pike's Peak club, now in rooms at the corner of Tejon and Kiowa streets, to be accommodated with handsome quarters in the new Burns building.

The club is one of the oldest clubs in the city and has a very large active membership among the best business men. For some time it has been realized by the club that its present quarters were becoming too small and plans have been thought of for an enlargement.

The treasury of the organization is in a most excellent condition as was shown by the report at the annual meeting and many of the members have been inclined to advocate the erection by the club of a home of its own. As most of the members are actively engaged in business in the city, however, and desire that the club home be as centrally located as possible, the plan of keeping it right in the heart of the city has been universally favored. Mr. Burns is one of the active members of the club and the building which he is to erect just east of the Gazette building was naturally regarded as a desirable place provided satisfactory terms could be arranged.

It is understood that matters have been adjusted between Mr. Burns and the club and that commodious and elegantly appointed quarters will be fitted up in the new building, for the popular and growing club.

Just what portion of the building will be used by the club has not been definitely settled but will be known in a short time when the plans are completed.

The Colorado Springs Rapid Transit company, whose present quarters will have to be demolished to make room for the new building, will take temporary quarters elsewhere and upon the completion of the Burns block will locate in commodious and handsome offices fitted up especially for its use.

SUNRISE WILL FOLLOW GLARE OF RED FIRE

The first sunrise excursion of the season to the summit of Pike's Peak will be run by the Manitou and Pike's Peak railway tomorrow morning, the train leaving Manitou at 2:45 o'clock.

These sunrise excursions will be started on the Fourth of July and it is probable that there will be few more novel ways anywhere in the United States in which the people who desire to celebrate the Fourth in some new way could accomplish their object. The peak will be brilliantly illuminated for the benefit of the visitors. Three or four cars will be placed on the summit and on them will be placed a vast amount of coal tar. This will make a tremendous smoke above the peak and the light of the colored fire that will be burned will be more beautiful than otherwise. Red and green and other colors of fire will be used. This feature of the entertainment will begin at 3 o'clock, while the visitors are ascending the peak. It will continue until dawn begins to appear when the [illegible] will give way to the celebration by nature. The sunrise will be watched by the visitors.

Street cars will be at the corner of Pike's Peak and Tejon streets at 2 o'clock to take any Colorado Springs people who desire to join the party. There will be a large number and with those from Manitou it is likely that it will be necessary to run more than one train on the cog road.

MR. M'MAHON'S DANCE AT CASINO TONIGHT

This evening at the casino occurs the closing dance by Mr. McMahon's dancing classes. A good deal of interest has been awakened among the young people and a very large crowd is assured. In fact it promises to be one of the most interesting balls ever given at the famous resort. The dancing will be continued until later than usual and an extra programme has been arranged. Mr. McMahon's classes were very popular during the winter. He will have charge of the floor and will do everything to make the evening pleasant. Late cars will be run for the dancers.

There was a nice little dancing party at the casino last night and the crowds are increasing as the warm weather begins in earnest. There is no change in the place of amusement this evening and the casino is open to the public just the same as on other nights.

PEARSON CHIEF OF FIRE DEPT.

Council Repealed the Disqualifying Ordinance.

HELD A LIVELY MEETING

Horses, Dogs and Other Species of Animals Were Discussed Monument Bridge Matter Deferred for a Week Colorado Springs Electric Company Wants a Franchise.

"Chief Charles Pierson," if you please.

The much mooted question of a head for the fire department of Colorado Springs, was settled on the first ballot by the city council last night; Mr. Pierson's bond was accepted and E. B. McReynolds, former assistant to E. E. Baty, resigned forthwith. This leaves the selection of an assistant chief the next nut to crack, but, wearied with the long drawn out fight of two month's duration, the councilmen heaved sighs of relief and dispersed.

It was the last thing they did as a body. The meeting was fraught with vital, interesting and amusing incidents. The members talked about caterpillars, horses, dogs, sewers, street sprinklers and "mostly woolsy" young folk who frequent recesses at the High school and other dark places at night. It was decided to let the enamored youth alone; to remove the city pound; to continue killing dogs at $2.50 per head. General rejoicing followed upon the announcement that the water system need have no guards against caterpillars after three days from date.

The Monument bridge question is at least one week from settlement, bids opened last night having been referred.

The Colorado Springs Electric company asked for a franchise that was severely criticised privately by aldermen.

The entire board was present, Alderman Barring participating for the first time in nearly three months by reason of illness.

The Routine.

W. C. Sanders put in his application for a position on the fire department.

E. W. Case and L. Gilmore were elected special policemen without pay; they work with the water superintendent.

On account of damage to fire boxes, the new ones for South Tejon and East Mill street, was not installed as expected, but will be in the near future. A box will also be put in at South Royer and East Fountain.

City Attorney Morris reported the recent suit of Mr. Zimmerman on East Willamette street, seeking to recover $700 damages sustained through grading of the street by the city.

Mr. Kooler, representing the Studebaker company, presented various cuts representing electrical sprinkling machines. He said if the city owned the street railway, the plan proposed would save its cost price in one year. With [illegible] wet throughout the day and save the city and the railway company much expense. By a [illegible] machine is used in moistening tracks simply to preserve car motors, journals, etc. The machine is built only under contract and can not be delivered under four months.

Advocates of Pipe-Line.

Alderman St. John suggested that the council visit the waterworks in a body at once, and gave his theory of overcoming the summer trouble with the water that Providence may send, as the same was outlined in the Gazette a few days ago, to pipe the west [illegible] Lake Moraine to the intake, instead of allowing it to run in open stream.

Fourteen men have been constantly at work keeping the water clean, but in three more days their services can be dispensed with.

"We have fared well," said Mr. St. John, "but might not always do so and the only remedial plan I can see is to pipe the line."

The expenditure will be about $30,000 of $35,000.

Mr. Capell called attention to complaints of the location of the city pound, saying they would soon be followed by litigation if not remedied.

Mr. Barnes objected [illegible] to the existence of a pound in the city. "Our mounted police chase horses around town all day," he said, "to put them in the pound and make 50 cents on every head. Then the stock is left in the scorching sun and starved. I want to see them chase this stock out of town instead of into the city."

After some additional theories of a like nature were expressed, Mr. Banning moved that the pound be abolished.

The motion lost by the following vote: Ayes—Banning, Hawks, Madden, Summers, Watson 5.

Nays—Capell, Clark, McIntyre, St. John, Sinton, Mr. Mayo—6.

Mr. Capell, chairman of the police committee, promised to rectify the pound wrong and the matter passed, without recommendation as to the complaints.

No sooner had the horses been disposed of than the council took up dogs.

"I'd like to know how long this dog running is to last," said Mr. St. John.

"We want to go a little longer," said Mr. Capell. "We have killed 1[illegible] besides the cash we have taken in." (Laughter.)

"It's a bad situation," he continued, seriously. "We have paid $2[illegible] for catching dogs, and there are about 285,000 dogs left. The catchers get out early in the morning but the dogs get in, the varmints have had their eye teeth cut. The men charge $6 a day for a horse, a wagon and two men—[illegible] I wouldn't go after one dog for $6. It takes lots of nerve."

Make Way for the Chief.

Mr. Madden offered a bunch of ordinances, including one which amends the ordinance governing the fire department so as to allow the selection of a chief without his having one year's experience in a paid department, hitherto requisite.

The rules were suspended and the ordinance passed, Messrs. Capell, Clark, McIntyre, voting nay in each case.

The other measures of Mr. Madden's bunch are: an ordinance granting a franchise to the Colorado Springs Electric company; an ordinance regulating storage of explosives; an ordinance concerning inspection and sale of milk and other articles of food; an ordinance creating office of building inspector, fixing salary, etc. Under the rules they went over.

The ordinance relating to the building inspector makes provision for movable houses in addition to standing features; the milk ordinance reduces dairy licenses from $5 to $1.

The franchise ordinance was prepared by the Electric company. It asks right of way for mains, etc., under and along the streets and alleys, the right to sell steam and hot water; a 20 year franchise; the company assuming many obligations for safeguard of city's interests.

The council by a unanimous vote decided not to care for any graves in the cemetery after July 1 unless paid for.

A general discussion was entered regarding street sprinkling, and Mr. Clark favored use of the old electric sprinkler. "The Transit company," he said, had offered to put in a cross over in West Colorado Springs if Colorado City did not subscribe, and run the sprinkler at the same rates as last year. Mr. Fairall was generally congratulated on his efficient efforts with wagons. Mr. Clark moved that the committee be instructed to negotiate for the sprinkler on a basis of $1,000 a year; lost, 6 to 4.

On motion of Mr. Capell the police committee was instructed to secure by lease or purchase, a pound site; vote 6 to 4.

The council was informed that the contract with the C. S. & C. C. D. R. R. in connection with its franchise, had been executed.

Bids for city printing as advertised were opened showing: Out West Printing and Stationery Co., $310; Gowdy-Simmons Printing Co., $368.20. The Out West company was awarded the job.

Bids on Monument Bridge.

Bids on the Monument creek bridge at Huerfano street was as follows:

Pueblo Bridge company, as per sheet A, $17,300; sheet B, $17,600. Certified check $500.

M. J. Patterson, Denver, as per own plans submitted, $16,100. Certified check $500.

Gillette-Herzog Manufacturing company, Minneapolis, as per city's plans, $18,500. Certified check $500.

Marsh Bridge Co. Des Moines, as per own plans, $18,000. Certified check $500.

On motion of Mr. Watison the bids were referred to the street committee and the city engineer with instructions to report Monday night, to which time adjournment was agreed upon.

The street committee was given power to act on the request for a light at Bijou and Spruce streets, also the dark corner at the Congregational church.

A like motion was made regarding the High school, and Mr. Capell suggested that the nuisances at this place (spooney young people) could be avoided by the board of education lighting the "recesses" of the porches." The High school light was passed.

Mr. St. John detailed a proposition of the Gas company to put several Welsbach street lamps about the city as desired by the council, in order to test their adequacy. The cost will be about $4 per month for each lamp, if the system is used; the test to be free.

A motion to adjourn by Mr. McIntyre lost and that redoubtable fire chief problem hobbled up serenely.

Balloting resulted in Pierson's election on the first poll, which gave him 6 votes, Baty 2 and McReynolds 1.

The mayor declared the election and Mr. Clarke immediately offered the resignation of Mr. McReynolds, which was accepted, only Messrs. Watson and McIntyre voting nay.

The bond of Chief Pierson was accepted, signed by E. W. Giddings, Jr., E. W. Davis and James Briggs.

NEW RAILWAY NEWS

"Don't worry about us letting up occasionally on the laying of steel," remarked President Irving Howbert of the new railroad to Cripple Creek yesterday. We are getting along splendidly and when the work at the end of the steel stops for a few hours at a time it is to allow the men time to go back and smooth up the surface of what has been put down and prepare it for fast running trains. As fast as the track is being put down the men are smoothing it up and preparing the road bed for heavy service and to last against the heaviest rain that ever comes to this vicinity. The manner in which the bed is being completed, makes it as solid and smooth as would heavy usage for several months."

MINING NOTES AROUND TOWN

Among the topics of interest in mining circles among the features of the mining stock market National still sounds out like a blazing light on the horizon of the mining world It attracted a great deal of attention on the first call of the day and under the demand for the stock the price advanced to 13c on the second call there was an exciting scene when it was called and a great clamor reigned until the hammer thundered out the close. During the week it rose gradually like a resistless spring in spite of the antagonism of the bears who fought every inch of their advance During the day 1,400 shares of the stock changed hands

It is reported that a sensation will be sprung in this stock in the near future but it would seem that the chief charm about this National is that it is surrounded by mystery Rumors of a [illegible] shoot in its prognostications of a coming sensation in it all conspire to allure the unwary to buy or sell it and those who [illegible] on the inside can sit back with the complacence of a sphinx watching the multitude making a blind guess at [illegible] days

UNION STOCKHOLDERS HELD ANNUAL MEETING YESTERDAY

The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Union Gold Mining company was held yesterday afternoon Out of a capitalization of 1,500,000 there were represented at the meeting a little over 1,000,000 shares The meeting elected as directors of the company to serve for the ensuing year J A Sill R Kluft W A Ramsay W A Baldwin R C Morse C W Kurie and H Starkweather Reports were submitted to the meeting showing the property and treasury in good condition but they will not be ready for publication for a few days yet

At the directors meeting which followed the stockholders the following were elected as officers President J A Sill vice president W A Ramsay secretary and treasurer W A Baldwin and assistant secretary and treasurer H C Morse

It is stated that Mr John Dern [illegible] was supposed to have [illegible] prominently among the officers and directors but it seems that his name does not appear owing either to his own request or for some other reason

It is now stated that Mr Dern was only [illegible] in the steel transaction [illegible] and that [illegible] the United at up of claims, as [illegible] $10,000 he got a option of the property [illegible] Colorado Springs mining men

MARY McKINNEY MEETING WAS HELD YESTERDAY

The eighth [illegible] of the Mary McKinney Mining company was held yesterday morning at 10 o'clock There are 3,000,000 shares of the capitalization of 1,000,000 issued and it was stated that about 12,000 shares were represented at the meeting

The following officers were elected [illegible] President [illegible] Secretary [illegible] Treasurer [illegible] Directors [illegible] Only one [illegible] was submitted to the meeting but there is no doubt the mine [illegible] great flow of water in the fifth level of the mine is [illegible] and it is thought that [illegible] the water [illegible] to drain the mine [illegible] in that level [illegible] and in the third and fourth levels and the [illegible] the exact source of the water with [illegible] the ground is that the company is [illegible]

[illegible] following the meeting of the stockholders [illegible] and sold to officers of the company [illegible] President [illegible] Secretary [illegible] Treasurer [illegible]

At the directors meeting the regular quarterly dividend was declared which is at the rate of five cents a share amounting in all to $50,000 [illegible] which will be payable on the 10th of this month The company is [illegible] free of debt [illegible] amount of this dividend [illegible] small sum With the payment of this dividend the company will have distributed $1,000,000 to its stockholders This month also marks a [illegible] in the history of the company [illegible] and it is only [illegible] that the company will be able to [illegible] extensive mining operations

The only sad [illegible] to be [illegible] the death of Mr [illegible] who was killed in the Mary McKinney [illegible] Rock in the fall of the year [illegible] he was [illegible] a faithful [illegible] in the company [illegible]

THE COLORADO SPRINGS MINING STOCK EXCHANGE

Colorado Springs, July 2.—The market on the Colorado Springs mining stock exchange for the first day of the new month was one of the best seen on the local exchange for some time. The lists were all very active, considering the fact that the market is supposed to be sluggish at this time of year, and a good number of advances were scored in the different departments. There is still a big demand for prospects stocks, but not quite so much business in the higher-priced ones, which were traded in fairly well and exhibited an encouraging amount of strength. The market was less spotty today than it has been in several weeks.

The features were by no means confined to National, even though that stock was the most active and very strong. All through the prospects stocks a fine activity is noted, and many of them advanced perceptibly. Cripple Creek Gold Exploration advanced from 10¾ to 11¼, and Grace was a heavy trader at 7⅞. Central still holds to its recent advance, selling at 8, the advance being due, it is said, to a strike which has been made on the Unexpected claim belonging to the Company. Silver Wave was a good trader on both calls, selling at 1¼, but Cripple Creek Columbia declined ¼ of a cent, closing at 8¾. Mollie Dwyre was again in good demand at 6½ and Little Puck was very strong at 11½. Copper Mountain was quite active at 4¾, due to a prospective resumption of work on the property. [illegible] firm from its morning advance at $1.26. Matoa sold as high as 37¾, but lost a point at the close. Independence T. and M. exhibited a very good amount of strength, selling up this afternoon from 45½ to 46, 9,200 shares having changed hands during the two calls.

The sales for the day amounted to 573,468 shares exchanged, the total cash value of the day's transactions amounting to $98,470.

SCROFULA The Blighting Disease of Heredity.

In many respects Scrofula and Consumption are alike; they develop from the same general causes, both are hereditary and dependent upon an impure and impoverished blood supply. In consumption the disease fastens itself upon the lungs; in Scrofula the glands of the neck and throat swell and suppurate, causing ugly running sores; the eyes are inflamed and weak; there is an almost continual discharge from the ears, the limbs swell, bones ache, and white swelling is frequently a result, causing the diseased parts to work out through the skin, producing indescribable pain and suffering. Cutting away a sore or diseased gland does no good; the blood is poisoned. The old scrofulous taint which has probably come down through several generations has polluted every drop of blood.

Scrofula requires vigorous, persistent treatment. The blood must be brought back to a healthy condition before the terrible disease can be stopped in its work of destruction. Mercury, potash and other poisonous minerals usually given in such cases do more harm than good; they ruin the digestion and leave the system in a worse condition than before.

S. S. S. is the only medicine that can reach deep-seated blood troubles like Scrofula. It goes down to the very roots of the disease and forces every vestige of poison out of the blood. S. S. S. is the only purely vegetable blood purifier known. The roots and herbs from which it is made contain wonderful blood purifying properties, which no poison, however powerful, can long resist. S. S. S. stimulates and purifies the blood, increases the appetite, aids the digestion and restores health and strength to the enfeebled body. If you have reason to think you have Scrofula, or your child has inherited any blood taint, don't wait for it to develop, but begin at once the use of S. S. S. It is a fine tonic and the best blood purifier and blood builder known, as it contains no poisonous minerals. S. S. S. is pre-eminently a remedy for children.

SAVE THE CHILDREN.

When my daughter was an infant she had a severe case of Scrofula, for which she was under the constant care of physicians for more than two years. She was worse at the end of that time, however, and we almost despaired of her life. A few bottles of S. S. S. wrought a complete cure. I do not believe it has an equal for stubborn cases of blood diseases, which are beyond the power of other so-called blood remedies. S. L. BROOKS, Monticello, Ga.

Our medical department is in charge of experienced physicians who have made Scrofula and other blood diseases a life study. Write them about your case, or any one you are interested in. Your letter will receive prompt and careful attention. We make no charge whatever for this.

BIG ENGINE IS SPEEDY.

Locomotive That will Haul Colorado Excursionists East.

Much interest is being manifested by railway men in the performance of the new "1200 series" of locomotives which have lately been added to the equipment of the Rock Island road. These locomotives, it will be remembered, are the largest as well as the fastest and most powerful passenger locomotives running out of Chicago, and at the time of their installation in the Rock Island service some few months ago, attracted wide spread notice. The daily service which these locomotives have given, has been excellent and never yet have they coupled on to a train of passenger coaches which they could not pull. The first severe test to be given to the "1200 series" was made on locomotive No. 1201, a few days ago. The occasion was the first of the Rock Island independent excursions to be run between Colorado common points and Chicago. So heavy was the travel that it necessitated fourteen large and heavy coaches and Pullman sleepers to haul the excursionists.

Ordinarily this many cars would be made into two trains, and would then be a good load for the average passenger locomotive and especially so, considering the speed required. Here was a chance to test the new locomotives. The No. 1201 was coupled on to the fourteen cars and moved out of the Chicago depot with ease. Between Chicago and Rock Island it sped along on scheduled time and at two or three points, developed a speed of over 72 miles an hour. The big locomotive did all that was required of it and more, and proved itself able to take care of itself in any emergency. From the good record made by the No. 1201 it has been decided by the management of the Rock Island to use the "1200 series" of locomotives in hauling all the Colorado excursion trains. These special trains will leave Pueblo at 2:45 p. m. and Denver at 3:45 p. m., on July 12 and 26, and August 4. The run from Colorado to Chicago is made with only one night on the road, by these Rock Island Daylight Specials.
